

This package of curriculum resources provides learning opportunities for students to continue their educational development and progress while not being able to access a school.

It is anticipated that the resources could be used in a variety of contexts, including teacher-directed, parent-supported or students working independently. However, students in Prep to Year 3 will require adult support to read and understand instructions and possibly scribe responses and answers to questions.

As students work through these resources, it is important that regular contact be maintained between classroom teachers and parents/students.

No assessment lessons or tasks are included in this package.

Structure

The English materials contained in this package include:

Resources

In this package, students are required to access the following books:

- Alison Lester, Imagine
- Libby Gleeson and Freya Blackwood, Clancy and Millie and the very fine house
- Bruce Whatley, Hunting for dragons

If you don't have a copy of the book at home, try some of the following ideas:

- search online for a video of someone reading the book, an eBook or an audio book
- substitute the book for a similar, suitable book you have available
- join your local or state library to borrow a digital version.

Other required resources are listed in the materials.

Students:

- will need access to everyday stationery supplies, such as pencils, pens, an eraser, colouring pencils, scissors, glue
- may print the worksheets if they have access to a printer, or write responses in an exercise book or on paper
- may need access to an internet search engine to locate particular educational resources or websites.
